

30 July 2000

Roy E. Disney
Chairman, Walt Disney Feature Animation
500 South Buena Vista Street
Burbank CA 91521

Dear Mr. Disney,

In the "Rhapsody In Blue" sequence in Fantasia 2000, the artistry and magic of Eric and Susan Goldberg (and their team) weaves a tale of four people who are able to follow their dreams.

For three years, the Disney Institute Animation Program has allowed us to follow our dreams—to meet and work with the finest Disney animators and instructors, and work on a piece of animation that is truly our own.

Every year, the staff at the Disney Institute has raised the bar—not only for us, but for themselves as well. And every year, they have exceeded our expectations.

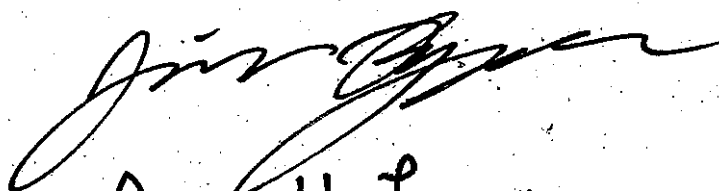

The focus of the Disney Institute has changed, and now the future of the animation program is uncertain. This program is a one-of-a-kind experience, and deserves to be continued.

Please join us in supporting the Disney Institute Animation Program, and the Disney staff who orchestrate it.

Thank you for your time,

The Guests of the Third Annual Disney Institute Animation Program

 I have never been interested in or took a class on animation. I came to this event, because my brother needed a guardian to accompany him. Going through the classes and the amazing speakers I now have a deeper appreciation for animation. I also feel interested in animating myself. I have come out of your program a better person. Thank you.
